

News Release - WiredIn Academy

Ever wondered how you can showcase your software developer skill sets to a wider pool of recruiters and companies around the world. Have you wondered about what it takes to be hired for remote work as a software engineer in a company in Japan, The US, in Europe, in some of the leading software companies in Rwanda?

WiredIn Academy (<https://academy.wiredin.rw/>) is opening its doors, this October, with the goal of training, preparing, re-skilling and sharing our experience of the past 8 years, in providing offshore software development services to clients across 4 continents.

WiredIn Academy was established as a joint-venture between, WiredIn Ltd (<https://www.wiredin.rw/>), Rexvirt Communications Inc. (<https://www.rexvirt.com/en/home-2/>) and TechGym Inc. (<https://techgym.jp/>) an EdTech platform with extensive experience in preparing and re-skilling software developers and equipping them with the skills needed by employers in Japan and beyond.

In the coming months an online registration will be open for a Free Trial Course for those candidates that would like to take on this challenge and further improve their careers and tailor their skill sets to attract remote work consideration from companies far and wide.
